Article provides a history of the 916 Ranch in the extreme north/northwest corner of Grant County. The 916 Ranch started in 1884 when Peter McKindree Shelley settled on Mogollon Creek. The ranch, with its backdrop of the Mogollon Mountains, overlooks the county and the Gila drainage. Over the 124 years of the ranch's history, four men have owned the brand and held the trust as land stewards. The 916 is one of two ranches along the Mogollon front that is held in any form of historical continuity by the original owners.
